Legendary Dutch producer Tiesto just released his new song "Take Me" featuring Kyler England. Tiesto has been releasing a few snippets of this here and there but wanted to unleash since this is so massive. Los Angeles vocalist Kyler England lends her gorgeous vocals here with a chorus, "Baby won't you take me with you, 'cause I don't wanna be alone tonight." Tiesto backs this up with the high-quality big room sound we've come to know and love over the years. The trance-influenced progressive house track features majestic builds and drops that are sure to take over festivals this summer worldwide.

Turn this powerful song, "Take Me" all the way up and live free. Tiësto is the truth and this could quite possibly be the track of the summer.

Being that Tiesto is already a worldwide superstar, he has the luxury of offering this one up for free! Nah, just kidding, you can purchase the download here: <http://btprt.dj/10559ER>
